Retailer Spotlight

A simple trip to the gas station for a bottle of water turned into $100,000 for Brandon Bradbury of Robinson, IL. After scratching a Million $$ Match Instant ticket, Brandon said, "It can happen to anyone at any given time!" Brandon plans to invest his winnings and celebrate with his family on a trip to Disney World. The lucky retailer, Casey's General Store on Main Street, also collected a cool $1,000.

Responsible Gaming

Do Your PART - Help Players Play Smart!

To support you in promoting responsible play, the Illinois Lottery has created responsible play brochures for you to circulate to players at your discretion.

The brochures encourage players to "Be Smart, Play Smart" and give hints and tips for playing responsibly. They're a great tool for you to respond to player inquiries about responsible gaming! The brochures also contain important information on problem gambling and support options; these can be given discretely to individuals whose lottery game play causes you concern.

You will receive the "Be Smart, Play Smart" brochures in October and can begin distributing them to customers immediately. For restocking, please contact your Lottery Sales Representative.

Do Your PART

Do Your PART in promoting responsible play, by taking steps to PREVENT possible risks. This can include:

1. Don't sell tickets to minors
2. Always watch the instant ticket dispensing machine to prevent minors from making a purchase
3. Keep RG messaging visible to players at all times
4. Help players understand lottery games so they can make informed decisions

By working to PREVENT problems, the lottery can achieve sustainable and responsible growth.

Leslie David Baker (from The Office) is "Grant the Genie" in the New Multiplier Campaign

One person isn't excited by the Multiplier Instant Tickets – Grant the Genie, played by Leslie David Baker (Stanley from The Office). In a new social media, marketing, and advertising campaign, Grant is disgruntled by the Illinois Lottery's claim that the Multiplier Instant Ticket game is "like wishing for multiple wishes." Grant grumpily points out, "Everyone knows you can't do that," as he watches players win. Your customers will see a lot of Grant the Genie across all media channels and in a robust POS kit.
